Trollstock

Experience Trollstock 2002. 2002? Yep. Trollstock this year did not take place in October, as it usually does, but it took place on the warm sunny day of April 16, 2002. This year, students lounged around in the courtyard by the cafeteria from 6 p.m. until 11 p.m. to hear many talented performers. Students were able to hear some of their fellow classmates as well as a very talented band from off-campus. The evening closed with a performance by the Lumberjacks, Carrie Rodgers, Ken Litscher, and Jeremy Junkin, making the crowd laugh as usual. Trollstock did not have the usual chill of mid-October this year, but it still was a great time for all students to come together.

Right: Amelia! Amelia!

Bottom Right: Dave is one very gullible person in saran wrap!

The Gathering

The Gathering began Friday October 5th and continued through Saturday October 6th. This major fundraising event is held every year for students, faculty, families, and sponsors. This year the Gathering was able to be held in the new Ozinga Chapel. After a delicious dinner in the gym, served by various student athletes, the guests were escorted by trolley to the chapel for an evening of entertainment. Nicole Schoon hosted the evening and the Wind Ensemble provided the prelude. Choir and music ensembles provided the entertainment.

Up Right: Using an assembly line, the cafeteria workers prepare the plates to be served.

Fall Play - The Physicists

Last fall, the Trinity Christian College theater group put on a spectacular production of The Physicists, a dark comedy by Friedrich Durrenmatt. This satire about physicists in a mental institution was wonderfully performed by a group of Trinity's finest students. Not only was each night's audience entertained, but the performers also had a great time working together. By the time the rehearsals had ended and the play was finished, the group had a long list of laughs put together. To the theater group—congratulations on a job well done.

Up Right: Nick Koster looks genuinely concerned for his love in this play.

Spring Play - Thieves' Carnival

Trinity's 2002 Spring Play was a farce by Jean Anouilh, called Thieves' Carnival. The cast of 13 did a wonderful job portraying their characters, under the direction of Jason Broge. A special thanks goes out to Charity Carroll for her amazing last appearance on Trinity's stage. The comedy begins when a bored, rich lady "mistakes" three thieves for old friends and invites them to her lavish home. Her nieces fall for two of the thieves, and silliness ensues. Near the end of the play, the living is robbed by the youngest thief. The crime is blamed on some other visitors and the thieves get off scot-free. The play was a sold out hit!

UpperLeft: One of the thieves, Doug VanWyngarden, tries to impress the old woman whom he will steal from later.

Left: The musician, Charity Carroll, plays a sad tune as one of the other characters has fallen dead.

Bottom Left: The thief played by Abe Peterson is scolded for not stealing something worth value.

Right: The character played by Aubrey Boonstra falls asleep in the arms of the thief she loves.

Bottom Right: "Please believe me, I did not steal from you," begs the character played by Ariadne Khatib.

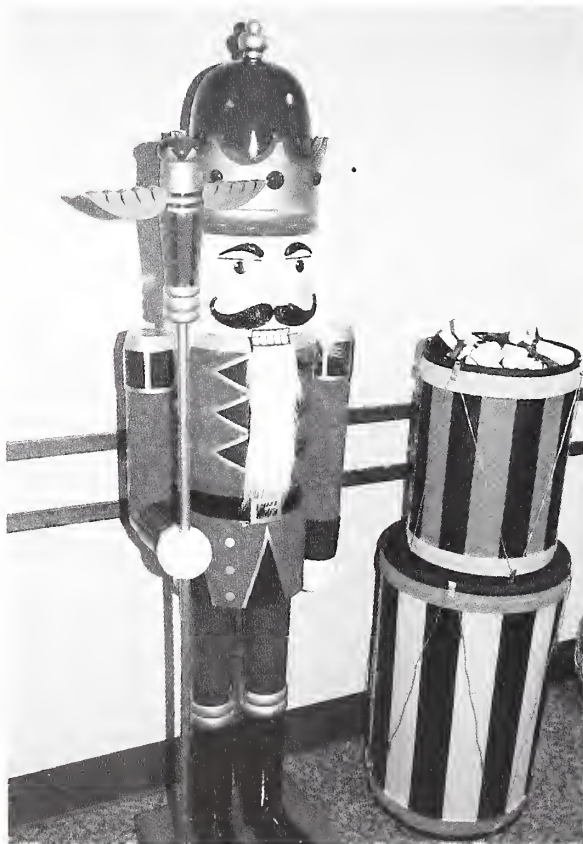

Christmas Tide

Bottom: These brass players huff and puff and blow their horns as the Jazz Band gets the house jumping.

Bottom Left: Keep guard, ye mighty nutcracking prince. The entire Ozinga Chapel was decorated in honor of ChristmasTide.

The chapel is filled with the spirit of Christmas. A poinsettia Christmas tree fills the Grand Lobby giving off the warm glow. An over-size nutcracker with a drum stands guard outside the sanctuary doors. Smiles, laughs and bright faces fill the chapel. This was the atmosphere of Trinity's ChristmasTide. This much-anticipated concert was so popular it sold out days before December first. Most of Trinity's musical ensembles gathered and performed for Trinity and the surrounding community. The show came to an end when the Concert Choir and Campus Choir sang, "This ChristmasTide," accompanied by the harpist. It was a great performance that left the audience in the spirit of Christmas.

Bottom Right: These clarinet triplets play beautiful music along with the rest of the Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Ken Austin.

Chapel

Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday there are no classes from 10-10:30 am. No, this isn't naptime for those who studied too hard the night before; rather it's the time for Trinity chapel. For one hour on those three days students gather in the Ozinga Chapel for various events. This year has seen many guest speakers and services at chapel. From Pastor Tim Hoekstra's "A Long Obedience in the Same Direction" sermon series to Trinity's very own Praise Team, many have graced the chapel stage.

Above Right: Mayor Dean Koldenhoven of Palos Heights enlightens the chapel attenders after he received an award for courage.

Below: Reverend Alexander DeJong, Trinity's first president, tells everyone about his vision for the school when he served from 1966-68.

Praise & Worship

Every Thursday night, at about 9:50 pm, a stream of students can be seen heading toward the Ozinga chapel. For many, it is the most anticipated night of the week. Led by a talented team of singers and instrumentalists, enthusiastic worshippers spend an hour or more lifting their voices in praise to God. It is a welcomed break from the stress of papers and homework, and an opportunity to focus on God.

Bottom Left: It's all about praising the Lord with our hearts and our voices.

Interim

Interim at Trinity Christian College is a two-week course that takes place in January, allowing students to concentrate on a single subject as a supplement to their regular classes. Interim opportunities often extend out to places other than Trinity's campus. This year, students ventured across the Atlantic Ocean to London, flew south to Jamaica and Belize, and traveled to other places in the U.S. such as Jackson, Mississippi and New York City. On-campus interims included classes such as marketing the faith, service to the needy, and origami in the classroom. These classes and trips helped students to become better stewards for God. Interim is a time to grow as a Christian and as a community. Spending two weeks with a small group of people and learning about yourself as well as those around you is all a part of the experience students had during interim.

Homecoming

This year Homecoming took place on February 1 and 2. The festivities started Friday night with a dance. Many students and alumni were present on Saturday for the basketball and volleyball games. Men's Varsity basketball played Calumet University and won, Men's JV basketball played Olivet and lost, Women's basketball also played Calumet University and won by a large margin, and Men's volleyball played Cardinal Stritch University and lost three games to two. Blue Crew was resurrected for Homecoming and many students were present to cheer on the Trolls. Spectators were also able to watch a short dance performed by the Dance Team.

OPUS

All afternoon classes were cancelled on April 30, 2002, but not because the professors decided to give the students a break. Trinity's OPUS festival took place that afternoon. Events started with a small parade, and continued through the afternoon with a showcase of various arts. The day ended with dinner outside and an awards festival. Many students took part in OPUS events, from showing of their musical talents to reading their best essays to displaying their artwork. It was nice to get a break from classes, but it was also exciting to experience the many talents of Trinity students.

Spring Formal

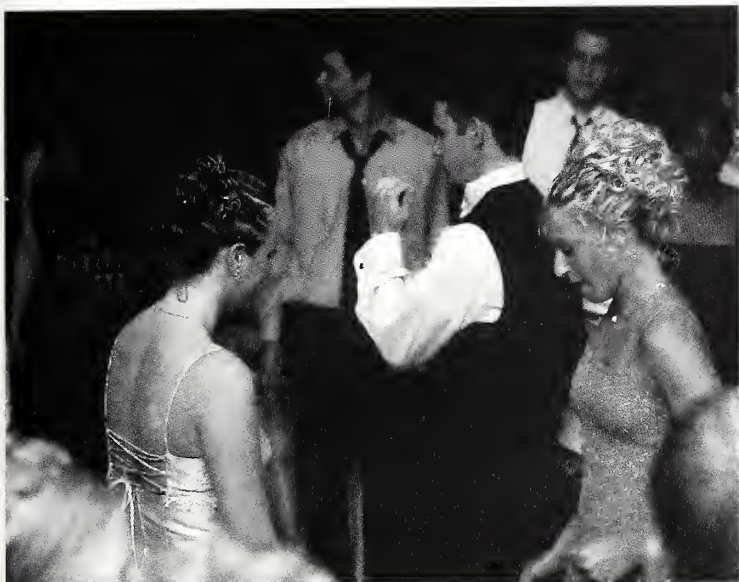

The Spring Formal was a great opportunity to get off of campus, go downtown and have a great time. It was a popular event this year. It was held at the Holiday Inn with an attendance of 237 people consisting of both upperclassmen and freshmen. The event started off a little late, but it was money well spent with dinner, dancing, and socializing. The Student Activities Committee certainly did a great job coordinating and planning this event.

Graduation

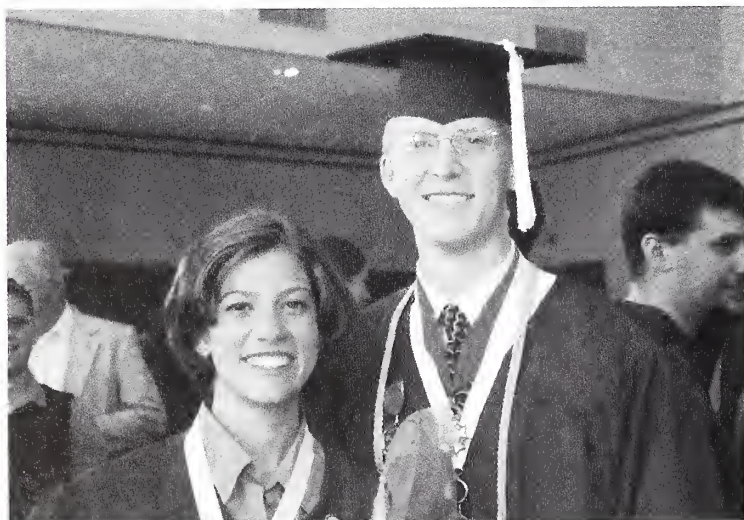

The Ozinga Chapel was full on the morning of May 18, 2002, as 125 students from Trinity graduated. This year, the graduates heard from Don DeGraff, father of graduating Curt and Chad, as the commencement speaker. His address was titled, "The Simple Truth," and he gave seniors important information for their future. Everyone was also able to hear the Brass Ensemble play and the Honors Ensemble sing at the commencement ceremony. Dr. VanDyke was also recognized at the ceremony, as this was his last year teaching at Trinity. Congratulations to all the graduates, and God Bless you in life's journey.

Men's Soccer

Below: Nate frolics to his beloved ball...

Men's soccer finished the season 8-11-1. The men made it to Regionals and then to NCCAA Nationals, which were held in Florida. The guys were excited for the break from classes, and eager to give it their best. They came home from Nationals content that even though they didn't win, they were at least able to be a part of the excitement and challenge some of the best teams from around the nation.

Above Middle: When it comes to being neck and neck, Jose kicks butt!

Above Middle: Don't drop it John...Just don't drop it!

Women's Soccer

Below: I got it!...No, I got it!...

The women's soccer team had a great season, despite their overall record. Finishing out 1-13-0, that's not what would have been expected. However, scores don't tell everything there is to know. According to Coach "the girls had fun with the game, and that's what counts." The girls were able to get in some great bonding time, and have fun together on and off the field.

Women's Volleyball

Below: Intesity is the name of the game, right Aubrey?

Trinity's women's volleyball team had an awesome season. The year was full of good times and sad times. Traveling to road games for division games was part of a weekly routine for the ladies. They traveled to Clearwater, Florida for a tournament, received a trophy for 2nd place and came back with sunburns from a day at the beach. To end the season, the ladies hopped on a bus and headed to North Carolina for the NCCAA National Championship, ending 7th place out of 12 teams. Overall the team had a 22-19 record with a 6-4 CCAC conference record. Through the laughs and through the tears, these ladies had a season they'll never forget.

Cross Country

In their second season as a varsity sport, Trinity's cross-country team went from five athletes last year to 12 athletes this year. They had 8 runners in the women's program, and four runners on the men's team. The team participated in six meets in their regular season. At the end of their season, they participated in the CCAC and the NAIA Region Championship Meet at Robert Morris College. Overall, the cross-country team finished third in conference and sixth in the region. Amy Hoving finished fifth place in the CCAC and 13th place in the region. On the men's team, Martin Conterez finished seventh place in the CCAC and 16th place in the region. The cross-country team ended their season at the NCCAA National Cross Country Championship in Cedarville, Ohio. The Troll's took 13th place at that meet.

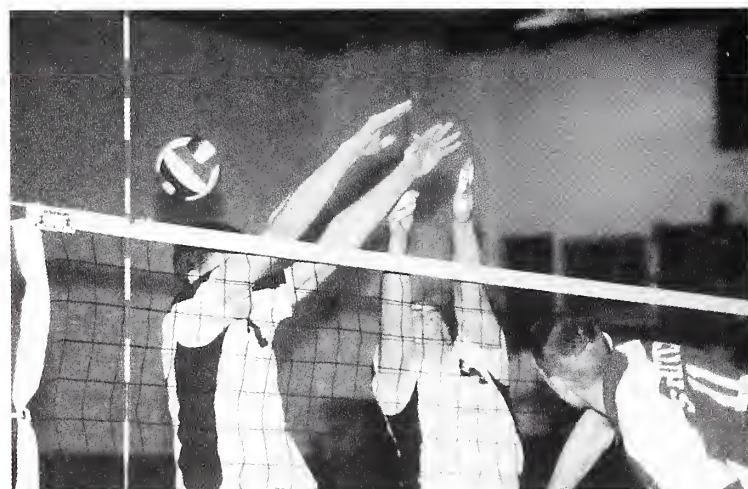

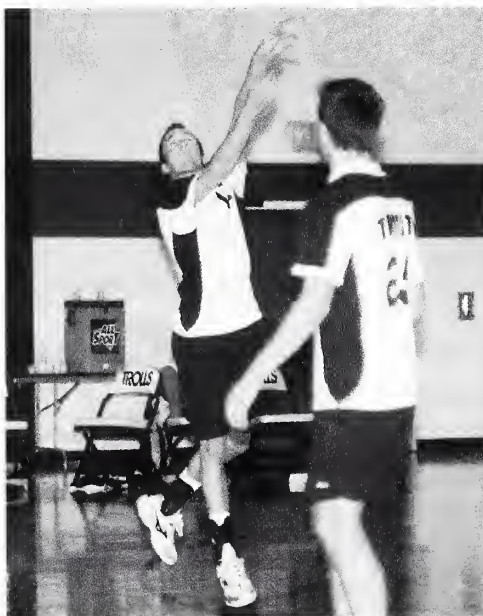

Men's Volleyball

The Men's Volleyball team finished the season with a 10-20 overall record, 7-9 in conference. They started out the season a little rocky, with a 7 match losing streak, but they came back when they played Dominican University for their first win of the season. With only 8 players on the team, and most of them playing in every single match, they sure tired easily. They still had a good season, and they look forward to next year.

Track and Field

The Track and Field team had a fun season. They had some long van rides for some of their meets, and sometimes the meets were even cancelled because of bad weather. They finished their season when some of the members went to the NCCAA National Meet in early May. The men's relay team finished 8th place, as well as the women's relay team. Corena Crow finished 7th place with her triple jump of 9.60 meters. Congratulations track and field members on a good season!

Below Middle: Nate Rael sees how far he can throw the javelin.

Below Right: Jamie and Adrienne try to catch up.

Varsity Basketball

The men's basketball team had a great season. The men's basketball team defeated Bethel College by one point, 94-93, in an overtime game to become the NCCAA Regional Champions. The team advanced to the NCCAA National Tournament in Boiling Springs, NC. Congratulations to Kevin Koeman who ended his career with 3007 points, just one point away from Hersey Hawkins' record. After breaking the career scoring record for Illinois small colleges, he had a chance at breaking the record for all-time leading career scorer in the state of Illinois, including NCAA Div I schools. At the National Tournament in North Carolina, he was named to the All-Tournament Team and was chosen to receive the Pete Maravich Award, which is given as a national Player of the Year award.

Bottom Middle: It's Trinity's own version of the Karate Kid.

J.V. Basketball

The 2001-2002 basketball season saw Coach John Tadla directing the men's junior varsity team of 10 players, with only three of them having previous junior varsity experience. Putting in extra duty, four out of the ten J.V. players were regularly suited up to play in varsity games as well. Starting out with a 0-9 record, the Trolls had a rough start. But they went on to defeat Cardinal Stritch University twice and Kendall College once. The Trinity Trolls J.V. Basketball team ended their season with an overall record of 3-11. When asked how he thought the season went for the team, freshman Kale Hoyt said, "We didn't have a great record but we all played hard and learned a lot. That's what J.V. is all about."

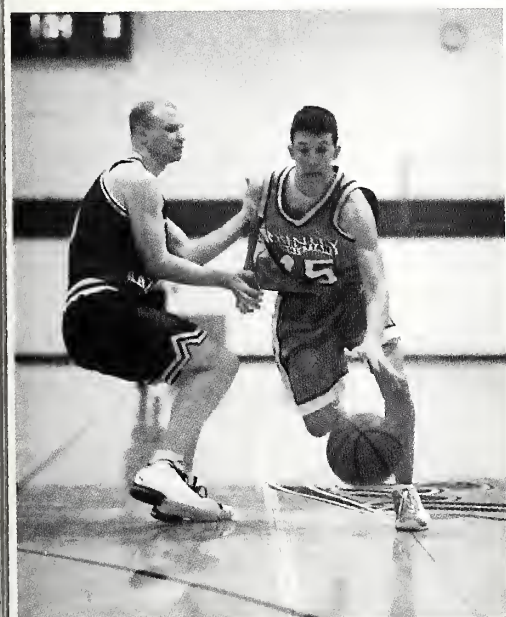

Far Left: "I hope I'm passing to someone!" Kale Hoyt thinks to himself.

Women's Basketball

The women's basketball team had a good season this year. The Lady Trolls finished with a 17-17 record, 7-5 in conference, and 10-12 non-conference. They lost, 59-61, to Bethel College in the NCCAA Regional Semifinal game. This year, Kara Bruxvoort led the team with 378 rebounds, an average of 11.1 per game, and 764 points, an average of 22.5 per game. For her achievements she was named All-Region Player of the Year. Val Worries was also named to the All-Region team and Jessica VanderLaan was given an honorable mention. Congratulations for all the women's basketball team members for a good season.

Right: Val Worries takes a nice little jumper from the baseline for another two points for the Trolls.

Bottom Left: Cheryl Miersma looks for an open teammate to bring the ball back into play.

Bottom Middle: What a perfect lay-up Heidi! Warm-ups always get the team pumped for the game.

Intramurals

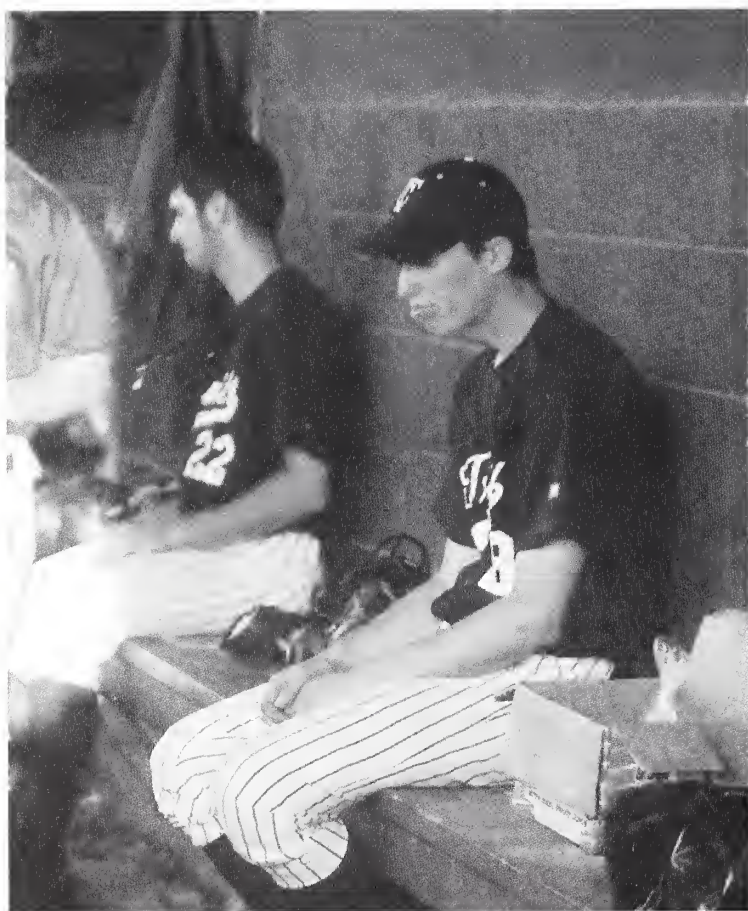

There's more to college than just classes. Several nights during the week, after the hour of 10, many students can be seen in the Mitchell Memorial Gym. There's no studying going on here! Throughout the year, different sports like basketball, volleyball, and soccer are played as intramural sports. Students choose their own teams and try to beat their fellow classmates. There are a good number of students who just come to watch these games and cheer on all of the teams.

Baseball

Trinity's baseball team finished the season with a 8-23-0 overall record. The team had 14 players this year, with 6 of them taking turns as pitchers. Greg Guzzo led the team with his .462 batting average, 29 RBI, and 4 home runs. It was a tough season for the baseball team this year, but the players look forward to another season.

Softball

Below: Anna is about to hit a home run!

The Softball team had a good season this year.

They finished with a 16-20-0 overall record. There were 16 lady trolls on the team this year, and 3 of them played as pitchers. Lynette Nirenski led the team with her .310 batting average and 20 RBI. Adrienne Glowski hit the team's only home run this season. Despite a 7 game losing streak in early April, the girls finished the season strong and good.

Allelu

The Allelu staff has had a successful year. With almost 20 staff members, planning went smoothly for the yearbook. Many goals were set for the Allelu at the beginning of the year, and just about all of them were reached. The yearbook had a new staff adviser this year, Shannon Pothoven, who was also the Residence Director at the Burbs. Cassie Haupt led the yearbook team this year as editor-in-chief. Cassie and Shannon worked closely with the staff to see that their goals were met. Many hours were dedicated to designing layouts, taking pictures, and writing stories. The staff looks forward to another great year, and meeting 100% of their goals.

Courier

Below: The Courier's Editor-in-Chief, Natalie Fleming.

Trinity's very own newspaper, The Courier, has had a successful year. Run by editor Natalie Fleming and managing editor Ryan Wynia, the Courier was able to distribute 13 issues. The Courier firmly stands behind their mission to glorify our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and work as servants in His Kingdom by providing a medium for news, entertainment, and discussion. And that is exactly what it did. Broken into five different sections of editorials, news and features, arts and entertainment, sports, and of course the Back Page, the Courier was able to cover it all. Managing editor Ryan Wynia commented, "The Courier continues to strive for excellence as it experienced another growing year.

The Courier had better visibility this year and continues to gain more respect from students." As for the rest of us, we'll just have to wait for next year to see what exciting things come from the Courier.

The Allelu staff would like to apologize for the lack of photos for the Courier.

Student Activities

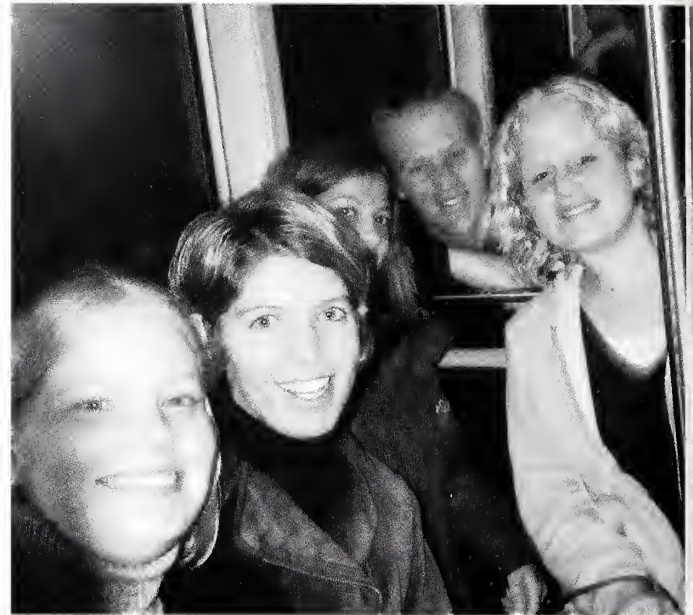

Student Activities has had a very busy year. Mandie Hudson led the group this year as the committee chairperson. They started off with line dancing and Chicago 101. In October, they planned Fall Fest and Dorm Trick-or-Treating, in which neighborhood children came to Trinity's campus for a safe environment on Halloween. Student Activities also scheduled events such as Game Night, Develop-a-Date, Bingo Night, and Open Mic Night. They finished the year off with Trollstock and Formal in April. They definitely had a lot of fun planning these activities.

Dance Team

Below: Wow! That's some good stretching!

The Dance Team, "All That Jazz," has had a fun year. The team was started by Louisa Prestia and Dawn VanGorp, who were both anxious to put their dancing skills into practice. The team consisted of 8 girls who performed during halftime at Trinity's basketball games. The girls also helped the basketball team players to get excited about the games by decorating the locker room and putting gifts in their mailboxes. The girls were close, as they went on outings and did devotions together. Louisa, the team captain, said that the year went well, considering they jumped into it so quickly. The girls look forward to next year as they are working on routines over the summer.

Campus Ministries

The campus ministry team is an active group of individuals who organize many different activities and ministry opportunities for the student body. This year, four student chaplains led the team. Jen Ruesch, Abe Peterson, Kristin Bielema, and Danjuma Bulus each directed a different aspect of the team's outreach. Jen was in charge of the service projects, nursing home ministries, and blood drives. Abe worked with the RA's and Student Association, Danjuma led the prayer ministry, and Kristin was involved with Praise and Worship, Chapel, and Young Life. The student body is grateful for the spiritual leadership the entire team has provided over the past school year.

OAAU

The Organization for African American Unity (OAAU), is an active group of students at Trinity Christian College who seek to promote diversity and understanding. Throughout the school year, the OAAU has sponsored many different activities for the student body. They hosted the International Student Dinner, the Multi-Cultural Masquerade Ball, Gospel Fest, and a church service at Pullman CRC. They also cooked and served a soul food dinner in the cafeteria for the student body. Poetry nights and chapel services were also regular events organized by the OAAU during the past year.

Choir

The Concert Choir did not have the 80 members it did last year.

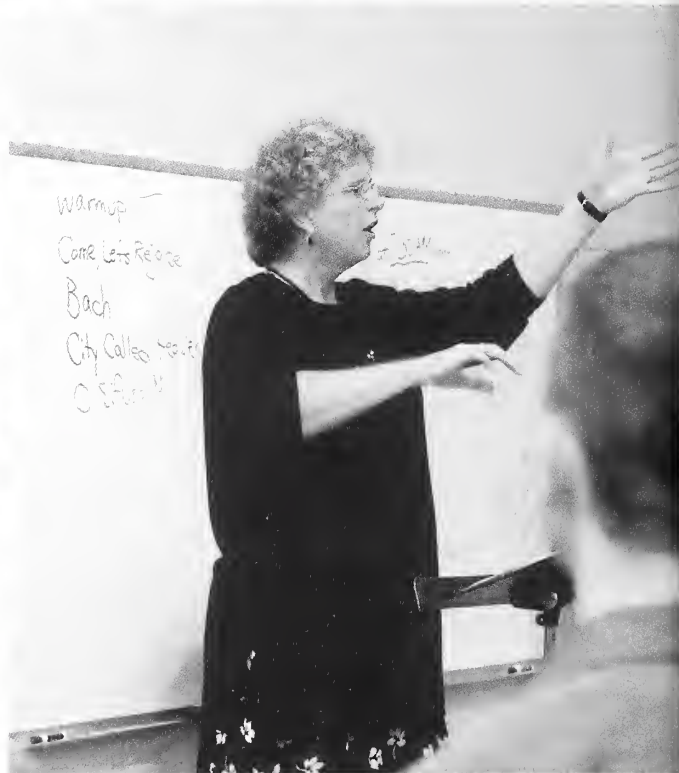

While choir is still as popular as it has been, only about 50 people were chosen to join the Concert Choir. The rest of the students who auditioned were allowed to join the new Campus Choir, led by June Miller. One difference between the two was that the Campus Choir did not join the Concert Choir to their Fall Tour to Wisconsin. The two choirs did perform together at the two choir concerts this year. The Honors Ensemble was still around this year, with 12 members chosen from the Concert Choir. All three of these groups performed at The Gathering and ChristmasTide.

Wind Ensemble

The Wind Ensemble is a group of musicians led by Dr. Austin.

Below: These two flute players play their music at ChristmasTide.

The group contains students who play various instruments ranging from brass to wind to percussion instruments. The more than 40 member band performed at various events throughout the year, starting with The Gathering and ChristmasTide, as well as some of their own concerts. The band looks forward to next year, as there has been talk about a tour for the band next year.

South Hall

South Hall Council had an exciting year. The rivalry between dorms has certainly continued! In September, they filled West Hall lobby with cups of water. Only a few weeks later they battled it out on the field during Powder Puff football, and of course they won again! They also were involved in other fun activities such as Pizza Extravaganza, Halloween Dance, a Christmas Party, and Midnight Bowling. Of course we can't forget that they finished the year off with Jell-O Wrestling. It was definitely a great activity for all students to come enjoy.

West Hall

The West Hall Council is a small group of West Hall residents that meets each week to plan activities for the students. Mike Macco and Kristin Bielema had this team of individuals to keep West Hallers well fed and entertained with their bagel mornings, snacks after Praise and Worship, movie nights, card night, and roller skating, to only mention a few of the activities they sponsor for the students. Thanks for your hard work West Hall Council!

Tibstra Hall

Tibstra Hall had a jammed packed year this year planning all sorts of events in order to help bond not only the floors but also the campus together. "I thought it was awesome how Tibstra planned activities that brought the campus together," said freshman Elise Overgaauw. They started the year off with a slip and slide with ice cream event held behind the dorm building. But things didn't slow there for Tibstra Hall, which held a Thanksgiving Dinner for all the residents, held in the Grand Lobby. Tibstra Hall has had its hands full with events such as Christmas Caroling with hot chocolate and cookies served in the Fireside Chapel, a toga party where everyone played twister, and a nacho night that brought along some hungry students from all over campus. And of course you can't forget Oscar night, which is organized each year by Tibstra Hall council. Oscar Night brought students from every aspect of Trinity together to celebrate the Oscars and for a chance to feel like a star.

Below: Lainey VanStedum, Kara Bruxvoort, and Kristy DeRuiter all enjoy a night on the Red Carpet.

The Burbs

Below: Milke VanWyk betrays his team and talks about their game plan with the coach from Tibstra Hall.

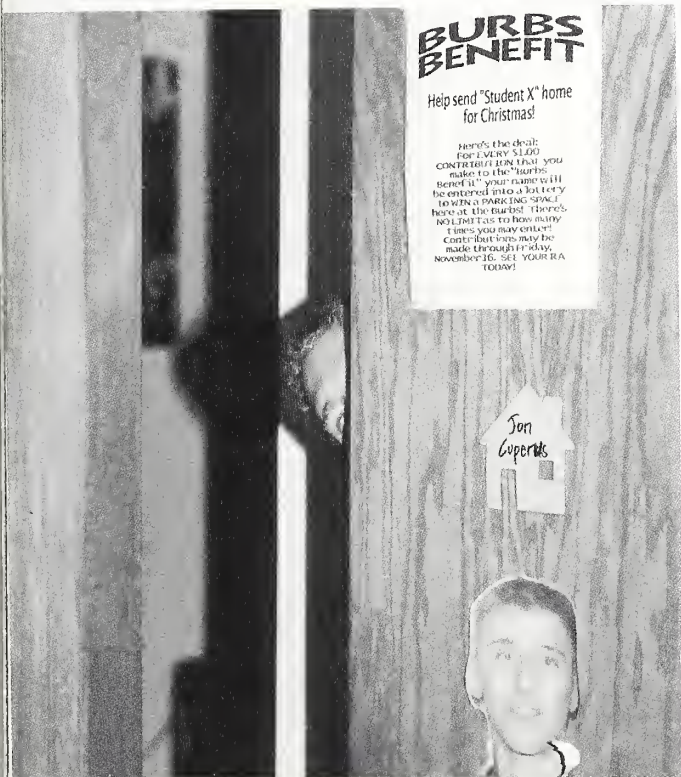

Trinity expanded its campus this past year to Crestwood, Illinois. Two apartment buildings, known as "The Burbs," became the home to several Trinity students. They held some activities throughout the year such as Game Nights, a Christmas Party, Barbeques, and Real World 101. They also participated in Powder Puff Football. The Burbs' first year was great, and next year's residents look forward to a great time.

Below: The few...The proud. The ladies from the Burbs come to join in a powder puff game.

In Memory

This page is dedicated to those who lost their lives on September 11, 2001. May God comfort the souls of those who lost loved ones on that tragic day.

As students on Trinity's campus were in class, eating breakfast, or just waking up, a terrorist attack was occurring in New York City and in Washington D.C. Two planes were crashed into the World Trade Center towers, and another into the Pentagon. As soon as the news came out, an immediate prayer session was called for on Trinity's campus. Students and faculty left class to join in the chapel to pray for the victims, the rescuers, and our nation.

After the attacks, the nation was in shock. But people stood strong. Businesses displayed messages such as "God Bless America" and "United We Stand." Trinity's community also came together, as several prayer meetings were scheduled after the attacks. No one will ever forget that day, but we can also remember how everyone came together as a community for the common good.

"None of us will forget this day, yet we go forward to defend freedom and all that is good and just in our world."
~ President Bush

"The advance of human freedom--the great achievement of our time, and the great hope of every time--now depends on us. Our nation--this generation--will lift a dark threat of violence from our people and our future. We will rally the world to this cause by our efforts, by our courage. We will not tire, we will not falter, and we will not fail."
~ President Bush, In his address to the nation on September 20, 2001

The Allelu Staff this year has certainly joined together. At the beginning of the year we had almost 20 staff members! That was an improvement from previous years. We also had the help of Shanno nPothoven this year, who was always there when I had questions, even if she didn't have answers right away. A special thanks to all my Editors this year! Mark your photographs are beautiful. Catherine thanks for filling a position I decided to start again this year. Charlene thanks for deciding to be layout editor on such short notice. Amanda, I really appreciate your help with the business section. Raleen I can't forget to thank you, because you put those 200 businesses into our database. I think that this yearbook has turned out great, and I could not have done it without every one of our staff members. I also want to thank Linda Conrath and Kris Hawkins, who have been great advisors from Herff-Jones. I look forward to next year, because I will be co-editing with Amanda Tuthill. We already have many ideas, and hopefully we can get more accomplished with the two of us in charge. Thank you to everyone who has helped the yearbook in any way.
